Bouchard hears about lake levels problems

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Haliburton's water level plight has finally reached the ears of the federal Minister of the Environment.

Lucien Bouchard has received letters from Ontario's Minister of Natural Resources Vince Kerrio and from Conservative MP for Victoria-Haliburton Bill Scott.

Kerrio wrote his letter to Bouchard after studying the material provided to him by the Haliburton Highlands Water Level Advisory Committee in January. He forwarded copies of the reports and documents to Bouchard's office in order to provide the newly-appointed environment minister with the background of the situation.

Kerrio concluded his letter by suggesting that a meeting be set up between himself, members of the water level committee and Bouchard. "I invite you, in your new portfolio, to visit Haliburton County and meet with the Water Management Advisory Committee to explore this issue in detail," the letter says.

Bouchard's press secretary, Terry Collins, said the situation has been brought to the minister's attention. His staff is now looking at the background material and working on developing a response.

Bill Scott, Haliburton's federal MP and a member of the Conservative Government, also wrote a letter to Bouchard after meeting with officials of the Trent-Severn Waterway two weeks ago. Scott told The Times that he explained in his letter to Bouchard the need to find more reservoir capacity in Haliburton County. Bouchard acknowledged receipt of Scott's letter but did not commit his ministry to any specific action. Scott says he is supporting a proposal to have a thorough study of the water level problem commissioned looking at possible solutions.

Although he admits that the study would be costly, he says the recently quoted figure of $1-million is inaccurate and inflated. Scott says he is fully prepared to co-

Lutterworth has potential to attract light industry

There is strong potential for attracting light industry to Lutterworth Township if the Industrial Park is opened up. This was one of the beliefs of a group of residents and council members who met last Tuesday.

Small industries are beginning to look in this direction, says Andy Campbell from the Haliburton County Development Corporation told the small informal gathering. "You have to be ready for them because they're coming... They've come as far as Lindsay."

The meeting in the township council chambers was arranged by Campbell, along with Chamber of Commerce Manager Shirley Rapson and the township council. The public forum was arranged to discuss possibilities for commercial, industrial and recreational expansion in Lutterworth.

Lutterworth Township is fortunate in having a 30-acre parcel of land on Highway 121 that is already zoned for industrial use. In spite of the zoning, though, the land is completely undeveloped. None of the property has been cleared, and although Ministry of Transportation approval has been granted for an access from the highway, none has been built.

Although the idea of opening up this property struck a popular chord in the room, Lutterworth Reeve Carol Puffer offered some caution. "At all costs we want to avoid clear cutting the property, putting a road in and then letting it

Trappers disagree on ban

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The province's recent decision to enforce a ban on bounties paid by municipalities has brought a mixed reaction from local trappers.

When asked, most trappers said they felt the move was a negative one that would hurt not only themselves but Haliburton's deer population as well.

"It's kind of stupid," said trapper Peter Walker who caught five wolves in his traps last summer. Walker says the ban on the wolf bounty is going to result in a decrease of the number of people who trap the animals. "People are only going to do it if they can make money."

Wolf pelts are not bringing a very good price these days and Brian Austin feels that without the incentive of the $50 bounty, wolf trapping will not be economically feasible. Austin says wolf pelts are only selling for an average of $15 each, not enough to cover the costs involved in setting and clearing the snares.

When the supply of animals that make up the wolf's diet begins to run out, Austin says the wolves go after bigger animals. If they don't catch any beavers or rabbits they begin to kill deer, moose and livestock, he says. "As long as there is something for them to eat, the wolf population won't die out and they will eat anything they can get their teeth on."

But Mike Miscio, president of the Minden trapper's council, says the province's ban on bounties is logical. On Thursday, Miscio met with Stan Flemming, the Wildlife Supervisor for the MNR's Minden District, and The Times to discuss the implications of the ban. "The bounty was a help to the trappers and there is going to be a lot who feel (the ban) is not fair," admitted Miscio, "If they never had a bounty we wouldn't be having this problem. But we have to change and we have to be logical."

Flemming agreed, saying that people will always be upset when you take something away from them. Flemming said

Eleanor Young spent several weeks in Florida visiting with Mrs. W.E. Stuckless.

Jean Lacey was away last weekend visiting with all her family in the Sheburne area.

Sincere sympathy goes to the family and friends of the late Christie Coumbs (spelled wrongly last week), Darrell Walker and John Tait whose funerals were since last week.

Winners at the Tuesday night euchre games in Lochlin Centre on March 7 included for lone hands Dorothy McElwain while others were Norm Harrison Sr., Joyce Schellenberg, Isabel Saunders and Paul Hilyer, with the next games being March 21.

Good birthday wishes to these people, Irma Pasquino on March 10, Don Pasquino on March 12 and belated good wishes to Irene Fuhr.

Sheridan Kellett of Bridgenorth spent the weekend visiting with his mother, Gladys Kellett-Wruth.

Winners at St. Paul's Anglican Church card games Thursday included Jeanne Sears high man, Eleanor Pye low man, Dorothy McElwain high lady and Florence Schlosser low lady. Most lone hands went to Hilda Harrison.

Irene Minaker was visiting with Jim and Gladys Dugan (her sister) when the latter was laid up.

A list of those on the sick list that I heard of recently include Roy Eveleigh, Marjorie Robertson, Verna Hancock, Roy Windover, Lilly Dugan, Audrey Burk, Loyas Henderson, Herb Lee, Irene McKelvey, Shirley Hewitt and Ileen Crarey with good wishes to all.

We heard this week that Les Northey of Minden is recovering after having to undergo another liver transplant recently. His wife Audrey tells us that he had a most unusual condition and the first transplanted liver failed, so Les had to go through more surgery. He is coming along very slowly but steadily and is in the capable hands of the transplant team at Toronto General Hospital.

The community sends very best wishes and hearty congratulations to Mary and Albert Stata who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently.

Glenn Hall, Andrew Burk, Jeff Howe, Tran Larue, Doug Schell and John Ballantyne are presently away on a motor trip and stay in Daytona Beach, Florida.

Next Friday is St. Patrick's Day with all the lovely music on the radio all day; if you're one of those who wish you were Irish - fake it - and all the best to the real ones.

The seniors had another great day at Deer Lodge with line dancing, bingo or table shuffle, deer races, a fine dinner at noon then card games in the afternoon, with some of our Minden folks taking some of the top prizes.

Coming events include the Women's Institute meeting at the Library Cultural Centre on Wednesday, March 15 at 2 p.m., a luncheon for St. Paul's Euchre group on March 16 at noon, call 286-1724; and March 15 Dorset St. Patrick's dance - call 766-2646.

Hilda Harrison had a great birthday with some friends on her special day and then Susan and Kylie and family of Pickering came up last weekend to celebrate some more.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down forward, backward and diagonally.

They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Increase in county's rabies cases

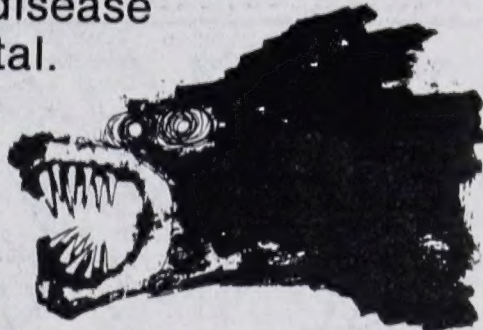

Haliburton County is facing an upswing in the number of reports of human contact with rabid animals, the district public health unit reports.

In the first two months of this year the Haliburton, Kawartha Pine Ridge Health Unit received 15 reports of contact with animals suspected to be rabid. Nine of those cases are considered to be positive, which means the animal was either located and tested positive or the animal could not be found.

Tom Reddering, a health inspector from the Haliburton office, says most of the recent reports involved rabid foxes in the area of County Road 1 between Gelert and Donald. Other reports have come from the Tory Hill area.

Although the reports have been concentrated in those areas, Reddering says this does not necessarily mean they are the only areas with rabid animals. This is just where they were found, he says. Because of the low population density in the county, it is likely that other concentrations of the disease go unnoticed and the animals die without coming in contact with humans.

The number of reports heard by the health unit has held fairly steady in recent years. In 1987, they received 120 reports of which 22 were considered to be positive. Last year the unit received 100 reports of which 14 were positive.

Although the total number of reports has not increased greatly so far this year, the percentage that have turned up positive has. Of the 15 reports this year, 60 per cent are considered to be positive, compared with 14 per cent in 1988 and 18 per cent in 1987.

In the last four months of 1988 seven foxes, three skunks and one coyote were positively identified as rabid. This January and February there has been another seven foxes and one cow.

For the past few decades the red fox has been the major species infected with rabies in Ontario, accounting for half of all rabies cases. Because foxes will travel up to 200 miles each fall to establish new territories, they can be responsible for widespread outbreaks.

Reddering says most human exposure to rabies is through contact with household pets. He says a pet can be rabid for about five days without showing any signs. It is usually during that time that it is passed on to humans.

The main thing people can do to avoid coming in contact with rabies is to not let their pets run free, says Reddering. It is already law that all domestic animals must be vaccinated, however, he says there will always be some who fail to take that precaution. Educating your children about the signs of rabies and encouraging them to tell you if they are ever bitten or scratched is also a very good idea.

Bylaw objectors to foot the bill

People wishing to object to by-laws passed by Minden council will now have to put their money where their mouths are.

Minden council passed a resolution that requires anyone filing an objection destined for the Ontario Municipal Board to pay the costs involved in convening an OMB hearing.

The amount, which has not yet been fixed by council, will have to be submitted to the townships office along with the letter of objection. Council adopted the measure to prevent what they call "frivolous" objections to municipal actions. If an objector wins his appeal before the OMB, the township will refund the costs of the hearing.

The OMB also has the power to award costs when making a judgement if the members feel the objection was unwarranted.

Council plans to design a policy to clarify the particulars and to set out how much of the hearing costs will have to be paid up front by the objector. The cost of convening an OMB hearing is $125 dollars per day. Minden Reeve Ray Moore called the new policy, "a step in the right direction."

New policy
being drafted

Municipal councils throughout the Highlands should take note of the policy being drafted in Minden to discourage "frivolous" objections that force matters to an unwarranted Ontario Municipal Board Hearing.

In the future, anyone who calls for an OMB hearing by filing an objection to a municipal action will be required to pay a fee. The fee will be reimbursed if the Municipal Board sides in their favour.

The Municipal Board plays a very important role in protecting individual property owners from indiscriminate actions by a municipality. Unfortunately, the board is susceptible to abuse by the same people for which it was designed to protect. It's just too easy for a person who has no valid complaint to delay a project.

By requesting a fee, Minden Council hopes to make people think twice before filing a formal objection. Through this action, Council is also sending out the message that it is pro-development. Council is doing what it can to remove the roadblocks that can stand in the way of commercial, industrial and residential development in the area.

Louder and longer

"The mood is ugly and it's getting uglier."

This is how Jerry Strickland interprets the feelings of Haliburton County residents towards the situation of fluctuating lake levels. Let's hope this member of the Haliburton Highlands Water Levels Advisory Committee is right because it's going to take a loud united voice from this county to convince the powers that be that action can no longer be postponed.

It is encouraging to see that our Member of Parliament, Bill Scott, has notified the newly-appointed environment minister, Lucien Bouchard, of our plight. This, along with similar accomplishments from Ontario's Minister of Natural Resources, provides a glimmer of hope that we may some day enjoy lakes that don't drop six feet and more over the course of the summer.

That's all it is, though; a glimmer. And unless Bouchard hears from each and every one of us that we are fed up, that's the closest it will come to being a reality.

There is no question that Scott is now beginning to understand how we feel and is doing what he can to help. The trick now is to convince Bouchard.

As Strickland points out, Bouchard is new to the environment portfolio and has thousands of people trying to get his attention. If we are to compete for that attention, we'll have to shout louder and longer than the rest.

Palm reading was a 'mis-fortune'

by Arthur Black

Long ago, when I was just a little guppy in the fishbowl of life, my mother dragged me off to see a Gypsy fortuneteller. Madame Zapotnik, decked out in greasy turban and rumpled bathrobe, read my pudgy palm, poked a gnarled forefinger through the dregs in the bottom of my teacup, gazed soulfully into a glass bowling ball on the card table between us, closed her eyes and announced in an accent thicker than Hungarian goulash:

"I see for thees boy...ivy-covaired walls...many scholars....Hee ees professair...ov mat ee mateeks."

It's not often you'll run into a gypsy fortuneteller who's that far off the mark. Closest I ever got to university was when I worked as a sheet metal labourer one summer tearing the duct work out of the old Botany building on the campus of the University of Toronto. (Yes, I'm the one who knocked over that display of tropical monocotyledons -- God, it's good to get that off my chest!)

As for a professorship in mathematics -- Hah! I've got a better shot at getting on the Board of Directors of Ms magazine than I have of landing any job that involves the manipulation of numbers.

You know how a lot of folks are illiterate? I am innumerate -- which is to say, congenitally unable to relate to numbers and their meaning, if any.

Well, that's overstating the case. I can add. And subtract. I can even do simple multiplication and division if you don't rush me. But as for the higher realms of mathematical endeavour -- square root, cosines, logarithms and a balanced cheque book --

The tail appears to be wagging the dog

Editor:

For a hundred years Ontario has been ruled by the majority of votes cast by electors. Ontario has also been a Christian society. As a part of that Christian culture we have had our schools open the day with an appeal to God by morning prayer.

Now a group of three people from alien cultures and alien religions have had the arrogance to demand that the six million Christians in Ontario shall be restricted and not to be allowed to open the school day for our children in the manner we have followed for a hundred years.

Never before in history have three people from an alien culture been able to dictate to six million people how, or how not, they may, or may not, conduct their worship of God. Never before in history have the rulers of six million people been so insipid that they would inflict the dictates of three people on the six million majority. Never before in any country have 50,000 Christian teachers been ruled by the arrogant dictates of three people of alien religions.

What are we going to do about it? I suggest that we simply ignore the ruling and that every one of the fifty thousand teachers open the school day by prayer, preferably the Lord's Prayer, as we have done for a hundred years. There are thousands of laws on the books which are out of date, or for some other reason are not applicable any more and are simply ignored. This ruling is one that should be ignored right from the start.

Reader frustrated by 'maple decline'

Editor:

When I moved back here from Toronto a few years ago, I found, much to my dismay, that the rumours I'd been hearing of "maple decline" were distressingly true. Even the maple trees in my sugarbush, the hillside in Lutterworth Township where my family tapped every spring for many years, displayed sparse leaf at the crown and dead or dying branches, symptoms of a sick forest. I practically grew up on that hillside. It's frustrating enough to read about environmental devastation, but it strikes a very sad chord indeed when a special place of your own is threatened.

If anything that I've read about forest dieback is true, then acid rain is one of the major contributors to this unfortunate phenomenon. Ozone depletion, is probably another. Acid rain we've been hearing about for years and we know that industrial sulphur emissions are first on the list of offenders. Ozone depletion that is the thinning of the layer of gas (ozone) which protects the Earth from radiation, has hit the news more recently and is believed to be caused by chlorofluorocarbons found in refrigeration units and aerosol cans. We must make industry understand that we are not willing to listen to their protests of prohibitive costs any longer. Clean air technologies must be installed while industrial and governmental research and development departments ardently pursue environmentally appropriate alternatives to the harmful chemicals now in use. And all of us must be willing to bear the expense of these measures, perhaps in the form of larger price tags for consumer goods. That out of pocket expense is a paltry sum compared to the enormous cost being exacted from the heritage our forests bequeath.

you'll have to talk to my accountant.

Or one of my kids.

Truth is, I've been an arithmetical also-ran since 'way back in the primary grades. One day I was sitting at my desk, easily keeping up with the rest of the kids as we followed the Mrs. Jones saga ("If Mrs. Jones had six apples and she gave two of them to Johnny, how many...") — when suddenly I felt a painful constriction in my throat. "I feel sick" I told the teacher. I was. Tonsillitis. When I got back to the classroom six weeks later, Mrs. Jones and her stash of apples had disappeared and my pint-size colleagues were chatting nonchalantly about the Multiplication Tables.

By the time I figured out that that was not where you went to make babies, the other kids had moved on to something equally baffling called decimalization.

That's when I fell behind and 35 years later, I still haven't caught up.

To tell you the truth it hasn't mattered all that much. So what if I went through life thinking that Calculus was a confidential affair between me and my dentist? Who cares if I taught my kids that Algebra was a painful disease of the joints — or that for years I believed Trigonometry was a cult philosophy devoted to the worship of Roy Roger's horse? Oh, sure...there were some embarrassing moments at the K-mart checkout counter and the teller's wicket, but on the whole, I didn't miss mathematics and mathematics didn't miss me.

But then I discovered I had made one fatal, you will pardon the irony, miscalculation.

I had always believed that mathematics, like

Latin and Etruscan Pottery Appreciation, was a dead issue. That it had been buried with Einstein, Euclid, Pythagoras, Archimedes and all those other enumerating busybodies.

Not so. Mathematics lives. One of its latest offspring is Fractal Geometry — a theory that you can assign a numerical value to anything irregular — cloud formations, the Dow Jones average, the spread of AIDS — and then measure and simulate that irregular object by computer. They claim Fractal Geometry can be used "to find hidden order in the apparent chaos of nature."

Well, we've been down that road before. I used to know someone who tried to find hidden order in the apparent chaos of nature — but she didn't use computers and she didn't wear a white lab coat.

She wore a rumpled bathrobe. Her name was Madame Zapotnik.

operate with the provincial government in its effort to find a solution. He says some sort of meeting involving all levels of government is inevitable and a cost-sharing agreement will have to be struck. "There is no easy solution and whatever happens is going to take a lot of money," Scott says.

But at least one member of the Haliburton water level advisory committee is regarding the recent developments with guarded optimism.

Jerry Strickland says the committee has been fighting the battle for too long for him to be easily swayed by political lip-service. "Running down the hall with a letter for the minister is not the answer," Strickland said in a telephone interview. "Anyone can play mailman, all you need is 38 cents."

Strickland says the committee has contacted every premier of Ontario and every provincial minister of natural resources in the past decade and has constantly been frustrated by politics' revolving door. "No sooner do we get a minister's ear than he's replaced and every time that happens we lose a lot of ground." Just prior to the federal election last November then federal environment minister Tom MacMillan travelled to Haliburton and met with members of the water level advisory committee, but on election night MacMillan was unseated in the Liberal sweep of Prince Edward

"It doesn't matter how well you manage 100 gallons if what you need is 135" says Strickland about the T.S.W.

Island. "It's the story of our life," says Strickland.

The water problem in Haliburton has been, "studied to death," according to Strickland. "The problem is that there is not enough water in the system and no place to store any additional water."

Scott should be jumping up and down on Bouchard's desk to get the minister's attention, says Strickland. However, because Bouchard is the "new guy on the block, there will be 5,000 other people also jumping on his desk with their own concerns," he says.

There are developments which Strickland feels could be pursued as possible avenues for a solution. The province has passed a new water-control act in order to protect Ontario's water from the perceived threat of free trade. Strickland says the bill might be used as a lever to gain influence over the federally-maintained Trent-Severn Waterway.

A study has recently been initiated to look at ways of controlling the water levels in the Great Lakes. Strickland says information gathered by that study may provide some answers for Haliburton's dilemma.

The creation of a Haliburton conservation authority is another possibility that Strickland feels could help ease the problem of low summer lake levels. "We need someone to manage the watershed," he says "and that is the mandate of a conservation authority." Another advantage that Strickland sees to a conservation authority is that it would be a permanent body not subject to the changes of government or ministers.

Whatever course of action the politicians choose in the near future, Strickland says it is incumbent upon the public to continue applying pressure. "The locals have to raise hell and keep the heat on," he says. "The opportunity is here all it needs is the political will to get something done." When describing the atmosphere among Haliburton's residents, Strickland says, "the mood is ugly and it's getting uglier."

sit bare," she said.

The municipality's risk could be reduced, Campbell said, if it went ahead and opened up only one lot at a time. The municipality's initial outlay to open that first lot could be recovered through the sale of the property. In turn, the money from that sale could be invested to open the second lot.

On the other hand, if they were not able to sell the lot, the only money lost would be the cost of opening up that lot and not the whole 30 acres, he said.

"We should really look at this," said Deputy Reeve Jim McMahon. "The way industry has moved north in the past five years has been phenomenal."

Commenting that most residents of the township are interested in only light, non-polluting industry, Puffer asked how the industrial park might best be promoted. To this, Campbell drew her attention to the example of Dysart Township, which opened a 40-lot industrial park in 1984 that is now full. He said the township was offering the lots for "one dollar down" provided that the buyers meet certain employment criteria.

Former Lutterworth Councillor Elizabeth Wright said the township can't wait for industries to come knocking. Instead, the township has to be prepared to spend some money in order to make a return.

Tuesday's meeting was also to discuss the potential for commercial and recreational development. The amount of commercial property now available in the township is very limited, and unless new roads are opened up, there is little prospect for expanding this.

Councillor Bill Valentine told the gathering that there is a tremendous amount of beautiful Crown land and numerous lakes, but the terrain for road building is not good. "It costs a million dollars a mile to build roads up through there," he said. "You're either blasting or filling."

Several ideas for recreational activity were discussed. These included horseback riding trails, hiking trails and boat trips on the Gull River

Magazine publisher lobbies for trail funds

More and better trails could be the key to reducing the growing accident toll among snowmobilers. According to Terry Kehoe, the publisher of Ontario Snowmobiler Magazine, the Ontario government should be investing more in the development and maintenance of the province's trail network.

The comments were made as Kehoe completed a three day, 550 km snowmobile safari through central Ontario. The journey ended at the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce office in Minden where he met with members of the local press to present his point of view on the state of snowmobiling in the province.

Speaking as the publisher of the leading snowmobiling magazine in the province, Kehoe said he was concerned with the increased number of accidents and deaths related to snowmobiling. However, he stated none of the deaths had occurred on organized snowmobile trails. He said 14 individuals had died on lakes, most as a result of plunging through the ice, while 9 were killed on public roads.

He said the safety record of properly organized and groomed trails speak for themselves. He said this was a prime reason, the provincial government should be investing in the maintenance and expansion of the trail system. Kehoe noted that each snowmobile in the province must be registered. A registration fee of $25 is charged. He would like to see a portion of that $25 fee, representing an annual $7 million, returned to the sport for trail purposes. Kehoe notes there are 274,000 snowmobiles in Ontario and the sport is in the midst of another major growth spurt.

Kehoe suggested that the province should be willing to spend up to $5 million per year on the sport with a commitment for funding support over a number of years. The magazine publisher had no suggestions on how the funds would be allocated

Terry Kehoe and friends mark the end of their publicity tour of central Ontario at the Minden office of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce. Sharing with him in the 550 kilometre trek, which went as far north as Sundridge, were, from the left, Kent and Mark Lester, Kehoe and Mel Alyea.

Minden may get bowling alley

A new bowling alley may soon be in store for Minden area residents now that the Pat Murphy Construction property on Bobcaygeon Road has been sold to the Westside Group.

Representing the Westside Group in this project are Daryl and Kelly Moore and Terry and Raylene

Clarke of Gravenhurst. They will be working with Pat Murphy over the next few months to help him relocate his business and to clean up the property which is located next to the Library-Cultural Centre.

Daryl Moore says their hope is to redevelop the property, constructing a small plaza with a bowling alley, recreation centre, seniors' drop-in centre, retail and convenience stores, apartments and a quality restaurant overlooking the Minden Park.

They are planning to move to the Minden area, joining their parents, brothers and sister. Moore says in a press announcement that he is confident that the Minden area is progressive and going to grow. He said there are many positive signs emanating from the area.

The Westside Group includes the chain of variety stores located in Minden, Carnarvon, Gravenhurst and Haliburton.

Snowmobiler body found

Police have found the body of John Alexander Tait, who went missing on January 14 while out for a late-evening snowmobile ride.

Tait, 23, of the Eagle Lake area, was involved in a snowmobile accident that night. He collided with a clump of trees on a point of land on Eagle Lake, not far from a well-travelled trail.

Tait went out that night to go for a ride, and when he failed to return by almost 3 a.m. the next morning, police were called in. A five-day search was conducted in the area, utilizing an OPP helicopter, snow vehicle patrols and civilian searchers. Hampered by heavy snowfall, the search came up empty.

Money raised for HAVE

More than 50 people came out to the Carnarvon United Church last Sunday to enjoy an evening of music and song. As a result, the $75 in proceeds will be donated to the local HAVE Committee.

Father Felix, from Our Lady of Fatima was to have headlined the show. And although he was not able to attend, the show went on with Reverend Ed Moll and former Stanhope Councillor Jock Mavor ably filling the gap. Music was also provided by Helen and Steve Brown.

The musical evening was organized by the group "In Harmony". The audience clearly enjoyed themselves and often joined in on the singing.

A Coleman® cooler big enough for a house!

New 9+ S.E.E.R. Coleman® Cooler Air Conditioner

Wouldn't it be great if the trusty Coleman® cooler (ice chest) were big enough to cool a whole house? Its simple design, economical cost and efficiency are hard to beat when you have to cool off a watermelon or case of soft drinks.

That's why Coleman's Residential Heating and Air Conditioning Division didn't have to look far for a "role model" or a namesake, when they set out to build a new air conditioner with quality, efficiency and an affordable price.

The new 9+ SEER Coleman® Cooler Air Conditioner* uses advanced design and production techniques. That translates to a lower purchase price, quicker and simpler installation, faster service when needed, and...Coleman quality.

Safety and economics reasons for money: Kehoe

across the province, but indicated the newly amalgamated Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs would gladly take on the task of working out a system if the province made the money available.

Economic impact

If the safety of snowmobile drivers is not enough to motivate the province to get behind the snowmobiling movement in the province, Kehoe has economic arguments to support his case. He states that the average snowmobiler has an estimated $10,000 invested in the sport. He said studies have shown that in Quebec, for each dollar invested in the province's trail system, $25 is returned through retail sales and tourism.

Kehoe noted that two neighbouring jurisdictions, which are competing for Ontario snowmobile dollars, Michigan and Quebec, are spending millions each on supporting their trail systems. He suggested if the province wished to keep their own snowmobilers in Ontario and attract visitors from other areas, it would have to make a similar commitment to the sport.

The publisher noted that the sport has been growing on the backs of local volunteers. Using the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association as an example, he said the group was formed by dedicated snowmobilers who saw the need for more and better trails. Over the years the group has expanded, and as the volunteers who form the nucleus of the club spend more time looking after the needs of the organization they have less time to do what they originally got together for, snowmobiling.

He described the situation as self-defeating where in a drive to create better snowmobiling, the HCSA has succeeded and now attracts many more riders. The additional rider use, increases the demand on trails, grooming and facilities. Kehoe said there are some areas of the province where clubs are reluctant to promote their snowmobiling facilities for fear that an influx of riders will put too great a strain on the system.

He had high praise for the long-term sense of dedication and hard work exhibited by the HCSA representatives. He said the trial system under their management is the best in the province and for that they have a right to be proud. However, he noted the volunteers are rapidly reaching the point of "burn-out" and unless the government and those businesses which benefit from the snowmobile trade begin to put more into the sport, the province is going to find organizations like the HCSA withering under the pressure created by their own success.

Kehoe had praise for the efforts of the local snowmobile organization and the co-operative spirit of area municipalities which have provided assistance in the purchase of grooming equipment for the trails.

He also said the acquisition of the abandoned rail line in the county was a wise move that should have emulated across the province where the situation arises. He said the foresight shown by Dysart Reeve

Murray Fearrey in ensuring the right of way remained in the public control was a good example for other areas to follow.

The Move Is On

Lutterworth and Minden to discuss joint fire services

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The reeve of Lutterworth Township has asked Minden Council to consider a proposal to create a joint fire department to cover those areas of Lutterworth now protected by fire protection agreements with other municipalities.

In a letter sent to Minden council, Reeve Carol Puffer said, "the burden of increasing costs for fire protection services is a problem faced by all Townships in rural Ontario." She cited several municipalities in Victoria County that have joined forces to form intertownship fire departments to try and ease the cost burden while still providing adequate service to residents.

Puffer said Lutterworth currently pays townships in Victoria County several thousand dollars a year for fire protection services and suggested this money, plus additional funds could be put towards a intertownship fire department. She suggested that Minden would house the principal department and a satellite department could be established at Moore Falls to protect the south of Lutterworth. She further suggested that, "all operating costs and capital expenditures could be prorated using perhaps a tax base formula."

But Minden councillors said the idea, although worthy, could end up costing Lutterworth a lot more money than is currently being spent. Councillor Bob Sisson said he recently met with Bob Lindsay, the fire chief of the Town of Lindsay and the two discussed a similar intertownship arrangement between Lindsay and the township of Ops. Lindsay's fire department serves all of Ops, and Sisson says the smaller township, with a population of only 3,500 pays one third of the department's operating costs, and pays for a volunteer force of 10 fire fighters. Each municipality has a separate budget and maintains their own equipment and facilities.

Compared to the cost incurred by Ops, Sisson said Lutterworth has a fairly good deal. "They pay the dollars and get their protection."

Council did agree to meet with representatives of Lutterworth Council to further pursue the idea.

OPP Notes

During the week of February 27 to March 5, officers of the Minden OPP detachment investigated 36 general occurrences and seven traffic accidents with four people injured.

SNOWMOBILE ACCIDENT

Petra Sessler, 24, of Freiberg, West Germany, took her first, and probably her last, snowmobile ride on Sunday, March 5. While making a left turn on a trail, Sessler and the snowmobile she was driving collided with a tree. She was taken by ambulance to the Minden Hospital.

THEFTS

—A 1988 Arctic Cat 650 Wildcat snowmobile, black in colour and bearing the licence number 595984 was stolen from from the Beech Lake area.

—A variety of items were stolen when four pick-up trucks were broken into while parked in a parking area at Bitter Lake.

—A two-wheel cart, green in colour, was lost in the Haliburton area.

—A home-made skiboose was lost from the area of Highway 118 and County Road 7.

DRIVING TIP

Drinking and snowmobiling continues to be a major problem. Snowmobile operators should be aware that a snowmobile is considered a motor vehicle within the Criminal Code. Therefore, the provisions of the Impaired Operation section apply.

This means a snowmobile driver can be stopped by police to determine alcohol consumption. If the evidence is there (alcohol on the breath), a demand to provide an ALERT sample is made. If a WARN is the result, a 12-hour suspension is issued, which means that person can not drive any motor vehicle for 12 hours. If a FAIL is the result, a demand for a breathalyzer is made and a charge of driving over the legal blood/alcohol limit is laid.

KEEPING CENTRAL ONTARIO INFORMED!

Did you know?

by Doreen Hawman

Retroactive to December 12, 1988, the Ministry of Health has expanded the Assistive Device Program to give financial help to individuals of any age when purchasing a hearing aid. The amount of assistance will be determined by the type of equipment prescribed. The Ministry has made provisions to have a Board monitor the guidelines set out for those testing and dispensing hearing equipment. Appointments to the Board are made while consulting with the Canadian Hearing Society, the Association of Hearing Instrument Practitioners, the Ontario Association of Speech Language Pathologists and Audiologists, the Canadian Hard of Hearing Association and consumer representatives. Further information concerning funding is available by calling the toll-free number 1-800-268-6021. Your nearest Information Centre will be happy to provide you with an application.

In Haliburton the office is located in the Drag River Municipal Building, Maple Ave., open Monday to Friday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., or call 457-2733. For residents of the Minden area, the office located in the Municipal Building, Milne St., is open every Tuesday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 286-4100.

Rockcliffe faces Halls in finals

The Rockcliffe Tavern hockey team needed seven goals last Monday in order to edge out The Times for the right to advance to the finals.

They scored eight and will now go on to face Halls Insurance in the best-of-three series that begins tonight at 7:30 p.m.

By downing Hartwick Construction last Monday, Halls finished up the round-robin play in first place with a record of four wins and one loss.

The Times and the Rockcliffe each won their games last Monday, as well, finishing the round-robin series tied for second place with identical records of two wins, two ties and one loss. The Rockcliffe, however, scored two more goals overall than Times, earning the right to advance.

Going into last Monday's final games of the round-robin series all six teams were still eligible for one of the two spots in the finals. Hartwick was the first to be bumped off when they lost 12-8 to Halls in the night's opener.

Vasey was the next to fall as they accepted a 9-6 defeat from The Times. By winning, The Times also made it impossible for Home to make it to the finals.

In the final game between the Rockcliffe and Home, the Rockcliffe had to win and score at least seven goals to nose ahead of The Times. They won 8-7.

HALLS 12, HARTWICK 8

Doug Ray and Sid MacKeigan ended their season in style, each scoring three goals for Hartwick. However, it wasn't enough to top the three hat-tricks that were racked up by Halls' Brian Shaw, Kevin Hamilton and Dave Hartwick. Hartwick goalie Kevin Smith was kept busy throughout the game. In addition to the three hat-tricks, single goals were scored by Halls' Colin Wilson, Dave Dollo and Larry Sawyer.

Andy Campbell and John Fedeski added to the Hartwick count with one goal each.

TIMES 9, VASEY 6

The hockey season came to a close for both The Times and Vasey after the second game of the night last Monday. The Times won the game 9-6, but their total number of goals throughout the playoffs wasn't enough for them to advance to the finals.

Ben Manuge was the top goal scorer for The Times in this game. He scored three times while singles came from Paul Walker, Greg Newell, Craig Crowe, Lou Reynolds, Steve Crowe and Irwin Asbel.

Dennis McKee picked up a hat-trick for Vasey, while Ivan Ingram, Barry Shaw and Tom Eager added one goal each.

ROCKCLIFFE 8, HOME 7

Although their chances of advancing to the finals had evaporated before they even went on the ice, Home put in a very strong showing against the Rockcliffe. However, with their sights still set on that one remaining playoff spot, the Rockcliffe fought off their challengers to earn the 8-7 win.

Scott Hamilton, Tom Haley and Daryl Ward topped the list for the Rockcliffe with two goals each. Scott Gartshore and Barry Boice added one each.

Dave Rogers set a strong pace for Home, scoring three times. Yvon Gravel added two while Barry Ward and Dave Wheeler scored one each.

Tonight at 7:30 p.m. the Rockcliffe and Halls will face off in the finals series opener. Game two is a week from tonight at the same time and, if necessary, the third game is slated for two weeks from tonight.

Your Business

In the interest of enhancing the business climate in the Highlands, the Haliburton County Development Corporation is pleased to sponsor this informative business-oriented column. The material in this report was prepared by the Small Business Branch, of the Ontario Ministry of Industry, Trade & Technology.

SOME CAPITAL IDEAS

One of the many challenges a start-up business faces is arranging its initial financing.

The traditional sources are personal savings, friends and relatives, a personal loan, using the assets of the fledgling business to secure a bank loan, professional investors and, finally, asking a government agency for a loan guarantee.

But initially, you and your personal savings are the most likely source of funds. Other potential investors, whether they are your family, friends, venture capitalists or the government, usually want to test your level of commitment by seeing how much of your own money is at risk. Why should other people risk their money on your project if you're not risking your own savings?

While many people are fairly familiar with personal and business loans from the bank, a growing source of financing for small businesses are pools of investment capital known as venture capital funds. Some are small and informally organized pools of money administered by a retired business person. Others are huge professionally administered pools of investment capital running into the millions.

Venture capitalists usually like to take a big minority position in the business, often in the 20 to 40 per cent range. They also like to have a seat on the board of directors so they can monitor their investment and offer advice. Their goal is to realize superior returns by investing in a dozen or so businesses and hoping that one or two will do extremely well and make up for the inevitable losses.

The Ontario Chamber of Commerce and the provincial government are involved in a "matching agency" aimed at introducing small businesses to potential investors. It's called COIN, which stands for Canada Opportunities Investment Network, and can be accessed through any of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce's 160 branches. The most sought after type of investment opportunity is industrial manufacturing, followed by consumer goods and high-tech manufacturing.

While COIN tends to work best for companies with hard assets, there is a provincial government program, called New Ventures, that is particularly appealing to service firms. This program provides loan guarantees to financial institutions that lend money to small businesses. The maximum amount for a loan is $15,000 with a dollar-matching requirement by the entrepreneur. In Eastern and Northern Ontario, this requirement is reduced to half of the amount of the loan. Each New Ventures applicant must complete a comprehensive business plan and agree to hire at least one full-time employee.

The Haliburton County Development Corporation was created to help business grow. Our manager, Andy Campbell, will be pleased to show you all the services available through the corporation. For more information call 457-3555 or visit our office on York St., Haliburton.

Vertical Slip Stitch Pullover

This pullover is sure to please both the novice and the experienced knitter alike. It is knit in one of Paton's newest yarns, Echoes Shetland Tweed but is equally suitable for Beehive Shetland Chunky. The instructions are written for men's and ladies' sizes small to extra-large. If you want an oversized look, like our model, knit one size larger than you would usually wear.

These patterns are available at Stedmans in Minden and Haliburton.

Great season ends for HHSS Redmen

The hockey season is over for the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen.

The team was defeated in two straight games by the Fenelon Falls Falcons in the semi-final round of the league play-offs. The Falcons advanced to the finals and beat Kenner to become the Kawartha champions.

Both of Haliburton's games against the Falcons were close matches with Tuesday's scoring being 4-3 and Wednesday's score being 5-3. Throughout the series strong goaltending for both teams played an important role.

Redmen Coach Ron Stackhouse said that despite the loss he was pleased with the overall performance of the team which posted an excellent record of 13 wins, four losses and one tie against larger school whose teams had more depth.

Stackhouse said he relied heavily on the offensively-powerful line consisting of Erin Nicholls, Jaro Cooper and John Vuksic and Fenelon was prepared for this strategy. The Falcons posted a guard on Nicholls in an effort to quiet the Redmen's leading scorer.

In the other semi-final match-up, Kenner upset the league-leading St. Peter's Saints, but was no match for the Falcons in the league finals. The Falcons now advance to the All Ontario championships.

Woodville edges Atoms in playoffs

Another excellent season comes to a close

by Corinne Howell

This past week brought the end of the hockey season for the Minden Atoms. This team has had an excellent season, considering that this year was the first year for most players on the team.

They came through the season to face Woodville in the championship playoff. The first game was played in Woodville, where Woodville was the victor.

The next game was to be played in Minden last Tuesday night. Minden needed a win but, alas, it was not to be. Minden fought hard but Woodville's passing skills put them into the lead early in the game. Minden came back and scored the tying goal off the stick of Todd Redgrave, assisted by Marty Dettman.

Woodville played an attacking game and was able to score three more goals. Minden played hard right to the last, and with a few seconds to go, they scored a second goal. Daniel Howell scored this one from a pass by Todd Redgrave.

The final score was 4-2 for Woodville, giving them the league championship. Minden settled for the well-earned runners up to the championship.

Special thanks for help throughout the season are extended to coach John Dettman, manager Bill Redgrave and the team: Terry King, goalie, Todd Redgrave, Marty Dettman, Daniel Howell, David Raback, Benji Crego, Andrew Crego, Darryl Dettman, Tommy Neville, Scott Bailey and Scott Dedman.

A Minden rink has won the Jack Robinson Memorial Bonspiel played last Wednesday in Haliburton. The event is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Haliburton with entries invited from area Rotary clubs and other service organizations.

Neil Burk was the skip of the winning rink. Other members of the rink included Hector Arseneault, Howard Scott and Bill Dillon.

Taking second place in the 'spiel was the Jim Gray foursome from the Huntsville Rotary Club, while Jim Sheffee representing the Haliburton Rotary Club claimed third place. Curling with Jim were Don Popple, Maurice McKee and Murray Burton. The fourth place team was a group representing the Loop Businessmen of Gooderham and Wilberforce. Ron Barr was the skip.

The bonspiel is named after a charter member of the Rotary Club of Haliburton, Jack Robinson, who was also an avid curler and builder of the Haliburton Club.

This is the eleventh year for the bonspiel which attracted teams from Rotary clubs in Parry Sound, Huntsville, Bridgenorth, Peterborough and Fenelon Falls as well as a number of local entries.

Strong passing game key to Minden's win over Millbrook

Once again a trip south to Millbrook came about on February 25th. Minden's team was caught off guard in the first 1 1/2 minutes when Millbrook broke through and scored a fast goal. The way in which Millbrook began in this game gave fear that Minden could lose their all win title. With 3 minutes, 32 seconds to go in the first period, Anderson broke loose and earned an unassisted goal. With the second period in full swing, Millbrook playing very strong couldn't get past our goalie Walker. With 56 second left in the second period once again Anderson unassisted sunk in a terrific goal.

The third period indicated that once Minden got rolling the hard work by Millbrook wouldn't be enough to stop these boys. Three more goals were fired in this period for Minden by Donnery and Anderson's wonderful passing techniques. Defense players Casey and Camelon played superior and left Millbrook consistently protecting their end.

Ripley played centre aggressively for Stephenson who has been out of action due to an eye injury. We hope to have Stephenson back playing next week!

The goals and assists were gained by Donnery 2 goals, 1 assist; Carpenter 2 assists; Anderson 3 goals, 1 assist and Todd 2 assists.

If we told you Barbara speaks with her hands, would you listen?

"At first my being deaf was difficult. I had to have patience to help my co-workers feel more comfortable with me. Now they know how much I can do."

Between the deaf community and the hearing world, difficulty in communicating can be an isolating and frustrating barrier. Yet, every day, people like Barbara are facing the challenges and building bridges.

With encouragement and support from her family, the deaf community and hearing people, Barbara has had access to teachers and interpreters who have opened doors to a promising future. Barbara is doing everything she can to be recognized and accepted for her abilities. Let's see what she and others like her have to say and hear what they're saying.

Tykes lose to Haliburton

by Lisa Kerr

On February 12 Minden Tykes travelled to Haliburton and played an excellent game before a rather large and very enthusiastic crowd.

Haliburton introduced each player by name and number at the beginning of the game, adding a very nice touch as the boys do get a thrill when they hear their own name. Haliburton found themselves behind in score at the end of the first period as Minden Tykes were playing very hard and sticking to their positions pretty good.

With the second and third periods Haliburton came ahead and won the game 9 to 3. Haliburton has a very strong team with some real hot shooters but they did have to work hard for their goals as Minden boys kept right on top of them. Minden's goalie Walker shielded 8 extra saves this game.

Our goals and assists were from Daniels 2 goals; Davis 1 goal, 2 assists; Kinsman 1 assist; Neville 1 assist; Recoskie 1 assist.

February 18 the Tykes travelled to Fenelon Falls for a game that proved to the boys and parents that at this age it is indeed great to win but to have heart is more enjoyable. Fenelon Falls Tykes were not up to our team's abilities and so after the second period with a score 6 - 0 for Minden, our coaches for Minden offered our goalie to play for their team. Fenelon Falls managed to get a goal in the third period and everyone cheered regardless of the switch. At this stage to have a game gives the kids a chance to learn and develop their skills.

Thank you to coaches Shaw and Recoskie for having great sportsmanship displayed to our boys!

The goals and assists were gained by Nielson 1 goal; Daniels 3 goals; Kernohan 2 goals and Davis 1 goal.

Job Skills Open House

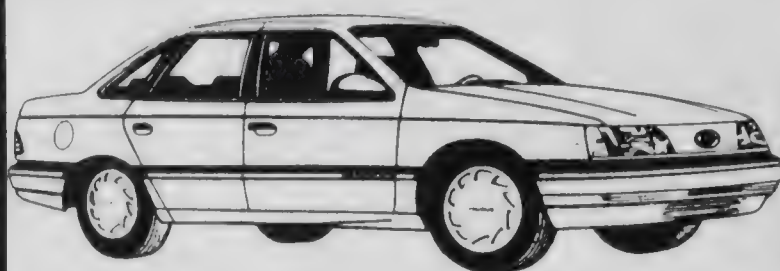

Sir Sandford Fleming College's President, Brian Desbiens, dropped in on an open house being hosted by the school's Job Skills Development Program last Tuesday. The program's 13 students are upgrading their education by acquiring needed credits and learning computer skills, word processing, business management, and retail- and tourism-related job skills. The students also gain much-needed work experience by participating in job placements. After graduation from the course, students may be offered permanent employment positions with the companies where they had their job placements.

Novices face tough battles in playoffs

The time of year is finally upon us when all of the season's hard work is put to the final test. Minden boys began their first playoff series against a tough team from Oakwood. Ops and Millbrook will also battle it out. Then the winners will play the last series of the best 3 out of 5 games. Good luck to all the teams.

Thursday, March 3rd, Minden hosted the first game with Oakwood. For the Minden fans this was an excellent game to watch as our boys put forth 100 per cent and then just a bit more!

Oakwood didn't seem to be playing as well as usual and so this gave Minden the green light to really set up each goal.

The final score was 6 - 2 for Minden with the following boys earning goals and assists: Anderson 2 goals, 2 assists; Donnery 1 goal, 2 assists; Kerr 2 goals; Stephenson 1 goal; Todd 3 assists; Casey 2 assists; Carpenter 1 assist and Daniels 1 assist.

Friday, March 4th Minden travelled to Oakwood which turned out to be a total reverse of the previous night's game. Minden boys let down their guard too much this game and with Oakwood recovering from the first game's wall up - came to their arena in a more aggressive mood! This certainly caught Minden by surprise and by the third period Minden fought hard to win but just a bit too late. Now with a game win for each team the next two games should prove to be very tense with lots of hard work needed by Minden to pull ahead.

Our goals and assists were scored by: Anderson 2 goals; Todd 1 assist.

On Sunday, March 19th "the last day of March break" Minden's Novice "A" Tri County team will be in Wilberforce for a one day tournament. Wilberforce has an excellent team and so one can only guess this should be an exciting day. Please come over to Wilberforce to give support to the team.

Canada Post Corporation

We are growing – in partnership with the community

More rural Canadians are enjoying increased access to postal products and services through retail postal outlets in their communities. This is happening in partnership with hundreds of local businesses right across the country, in a variety of ways.

Here are some examples of how we are expanding

In Whistler, British Columbia. Two new retail postal outlets, operated by local businesses, have opened this year. The new outlets complement the services offered at the Whistler corporate post office. They are the first step to improved service in this rapidly-developing community.

"The response from the customers has been fantastic. It's working out well."

– Harry McKeever, Operator, Retail Outlet, McKeever's General Store

In Rose Bay, Nova Scotia. We have another link in Canada Post Corporation's growing network of postal outlets. This time in a community where for two years, retail service was not provided through a corporate outlet. Retail postal service is now provided in partnership with a local business.

"I feel that the postal outlet here is a great step in the right direction to service the people in the area."

– Sam Emmons, President, Rose Bay area Board of Trade

In Ste-Félicité-de-l'Islet, Québec. A retail postal outlet is now offering postal services and products in a community where no post office existed before.

"In addition to the services provided by a retail postal outlet established in a local business, we now have the benefit of our own postal code."

– Jean-Paul Pellerin, Mayor, Municipality of Ste-Félicité-de-l'Islet

In Lewvan, Saskatchewan. A retail postal outlet is now open to serve customers. The outlet provides customers with access to postal products and services. These services have not been available locally for four years.

"The retail postal outlet in the Co-op convenience store is a good arrangement – they support each other and it provides all the necessary postal services."

– Larry Davis, Councillor, Rural Municipality of Wellington, Saskatchewan

More business for the merchants in your community and longer hours of service for you

Local businesses are benefiting from increased customer traffic. It means a better and stronger business base for the community. We are building local partnerships with the community and business, to provide Canadians with reliable, accessible and affordable postal service.

Canada Post is in rural Canada to stay.
That's a promise.

CANADA POST CORPORATION
Our commitment: better service for you.

♥ THE
FACTS

Q. How does what I eat relate to my chances of having a heart attack or stroke?

A. If you eat fatty foods – such as butter, whole milk, ice cream, cream cheeses – or use saturated oil in cooking, your body is taking in too much fat. Eating these foods can lead to a build-up of fatty deposits in the arteries of your heart. Clogged arteries are the leading cause of heart attack and stroke.

For more information on these or other facts, please contact your nearest office of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario.

Rabies fatal once symptoms show

The main role of the health unit regarding rabies is that of distributing the vaccine, investigating incidents and educating the public.

Rabies is caused by a virus that attacks the brain. The virus can be present in the saliva and is generally transmitted by bites. It can also enter the body through skin abrasions, the mouth, nose or eyes. Any warm-blooded animal, including man, can contract the disease and transmit.

Once a person or animal has contracted rabies, it could take anywhere from a week to a year before the symptoms begin to show. And by that time it is too late to do anything about it.

"Once the symptoms develop, the disease is fatal," says Reddering. This is why the health unit considers all reports to be positive until they are proven negative. If a person is bitten by an animal, or comes in contact with an animal suspected to be rabid, they must report it to a doctor or to the health unit.

The symptoms vary from one animal to the next. Changes of behaviour and paralysis are the main indicators. Depression, fear and rage are often the early signs in a dog.

Ontario Trappers' Association says Wolves will still be trapped to protect beaver lines:

stopping the payment of bounties will not stop people from killing wolves. He said trappers will have to continue to take wolves in order to protect their beaver population and hunters will continue to shoot wolves to protect the deer population. In Ontario wolves may be shot year round by anyone possessing a small game hunting license.

In cases where people, especially farmers, are having specific problems with wolves, Flemming said the ministry will send a predator control officer out to investigate the situation and then will assist the farmer in solving the specific problem. He says the payment of a general bounty would not offer a solution for a particular problem.

Flemming says neither Bancroft nor Bracebridge has a wolf bounty and they don't have threatened deer populations. He says there is a predator/prey relationship between the deer and wolf populations. When the deer population is high so is the wolf population; when the number of deer decreases, so does the number of wolves. If that relationship should become unbalanced and the wolves begin to threaten the size of the deer population, then the ministry will look at instituting predator control measures. "Instead of using the broad brush approach of a bounty, we will deal with specific problems as they arise. With the deer population currently large, it's hard to justify a bounty on wolves."

The Ontario Trapper's Association has come out in support of the province's ban on bounties. According to executive director Bob Barnes, with the bounty gone it will be up to trappers, and not the general public, to deal with nuisance animals. In conjunction with abolishing the bounty, Minister of Natural Resources Vince Kerrio has announced that his ministry is looking to increase the involvement of trappers in dealing with animal population problems.

"We see this as the perfect opportunity for trappers to be called on as the first line of defense in predator control," says Barnes. He echoed Miscio sentiments that trappers will still have to take wolves to protect their lines even without the added income the bounty provided. "It's better to take a few low priced wolves in order to take more beaver. The trappers who manage their lines reap a higher fur dollar."

Mio Chromec, the legislative services and contract co-ordinator for the ministry's Wildlife Branch in Toronto says municipalities can use the money usually earmarked for bounties to hire licensed trappers to solve animal problems. He says trappers can be used to remove beaver that are causing flood damage or wolves that are preying on livestock. The bounty system was not working as a means to control animal populations, says Chromec. "It doesn't make sense to pay people to remove animals who are not causing a problem. It's not necessary."

Not only was the bounty unnecessary in the province's opinion, but Flemming says the system was subject to abuse. Because Haliburton has a wolf bounty and neighbouring counties do not, Flemming says people were bringing in wolves killed outside of Haliburton to collect the bounty. Last year there were 140 wolf bounties paid in Haliburton of those only 68 were collected by trappers. Flemming says many of the remaining 72 bounties were paid on animals that were brought in from Bancroft or Bracebridge.

Whatever benefits or drawbacks the bounty system may have had, Miscio says now that it is being abolished trappers will have to learn to live without it and continue to manage their trap lines. "There's not much we can do. The bounty is illegal and we can't keep breaking the law."

Victoria United Way agencies now up to 12

Recently the Board of Directors of the Victoria County United Way voted in favour of adding two new agencies - Victoria Save-A-Life and Victoria County Community Care. This brings to twelve (12) the total number of agencies supported by our Victoria County United Way in 1989.

A total of $220,000 was raised in 1988, exceeding the previous years' accomplishment by some 10 per cent. "The generosity of the people in the County has allowed us to reach out and fund other new and meaningful programs this year," states one Board Member.

There is no doubt that the two new agencies have a lot to offer to Victoria County.

Community Care, which started about two years ago, is a non-profit organization which provides home support services to seniors and individuals with special needs. Volunteers help to provide these services throughout Victoria County.

With the assistance of staff co-ordinators, volunteers enable clients to lead a productive and independent life in their community, thus delaying the need for institutional care.

Victoria Save-A-Life is also a non-profit organization which got its start in 1986. It is supported by people who would like to improve pre-hospital cardiac care and see advanced life-support systems included as standard equipment in local ambulances. As a consumer participation group, they also teach and co-ordinate the teaching of citizen CPR. (They are presently training about 1500 a year.) They would like to see the emergency 911 system implemented in Victoria County.

The Board felt that both these agencies had valuable programs which would benefit the people of the County now and in the future. As such, they make a welcome addition to our United Way Family.

Report from Ottawa

The Challenge program is now in its fifth year. It encourages employers in all sectors of economic activity to create summer employment for students. The Challenge program takes regional disparities into account. Money is allocated to the provinces according to regional summer unemployment rates. Challenge '88 proved very successful. More students held summer employment in 1988 than during any other year for which data is available. Application forms for Challenge '89 will be available at all Canada Employment Centres.

Challenge '89 is designed to provide career/learning related summer employment and practical work experience for young people moving through the educational system. The program is divided into five components:

1. Summer Employment Experience Development (SEED).

This $118.8 million component provides wage subsidies to non-profit organizations and to the public and private sectors.

Letters:

Governor General should represent our heritage

Editor:

Shortly, the Prime Minister will recommend to her Majesty the Queen a person to be appointed Canada's next Governor General. Canadians who believe in their institutions will be anxious to encourage Mr. Mulroney to suggest to the Queen a suitable candidate for the position, someone who will reverse the unfortunate current tendency of Government House to misrepresent the Governor General as Canada's Head of State, someone who by word and deed will make clear a deep personal affection for the Crown, and who will exhibit a clear understanding of constitutional monarchy. These qualities have not recently been in evidence by the occupants of Rideau Hall.

The person selected must be non-partisan in background, and, preferably, not associated with controversial judicial decisions or the implementation of a particular government's policies. A young person would project the vigour and zest needed to re-establish the colour and excitement of the Office. As well, the occupant of the Vice-royalty should be fluently bilingual, and well acquainted with every part of Canada. He does not have to have been born here (that would exclude millions of Canadians), but he should be completely familiar with Canadian ways. Most important, the individual must be closely identified with the Queen, for that link asserts Canada's political distinctiveness in North America, more vital than ever in an era of Free Trade.

Is there an individual with such qualifications? Indeed, there are several: the children of the Queen of Canada, of whom Prince Andrew, Duke of York, is the obvious choice. As a member of our Royal Family, he clearly expresses our monarchical identity; he is completely non-partisan; part of his education took place in Canada and he has travelled to eight provinces as well as the North, he has a lifetime of experience in royal environments; he is bilingual, and the seventeenth generation of our Royal Family to be associated with Canada. His young, vibrant wife and daughter would add life and interest both to Rideau Hall and to the Canadian scene.

Canadians who believe that the Governor General should reflect a country confident of its heritage, proud of its identity and ready to face its future with the vitality and optimism of youth should write the Prime Minister forthwith and urge that he recommend the appointment of Prince Andrew to revitalize the Office of Governor General of Canada.

John L. Aimers,
Dominion Chairman,
The Monarchist League
of Canada.

Ills of the world

Editor:

What has become of the beautiful world which Yahweh, our Maker, created for our use and pleasure? Little children can no longer safely make mud pies or build sand castles while sitting on the good earth, absorbing the minerals which are essential for their health. People are driven from their homes for days, sometimes weeks, when an explosion occurs, blanket-

NOW AVAILABLE... WOMEN'S GUIDE TO PROGRAMS AND SERVICES FROM THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

The Government of Canada is committed to helping women achieve full equality and provides many programs and services to help them reach this goal.

A new Directory providing information about those Government Programs and Services for Women is now available through the Status of Women Canada.

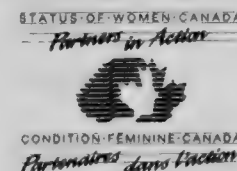

The directory includes such programs as employment training and retraining, educational assistance and research grants, social services, child care, health promotion, human rights and family violence protection and cultural programs as well as help for community-based organizations. Special attention is given to the needs of native women and women in the many multicultural communities across Canada.

This directory is available to you free of charge. To obtain a copy, complete the coupon below.

Letters:

Sickness and disease a result of toxic chemicals

ing their area with poisonous chemicals. They cannot return to their homes until experts tell them it is safe. They are fearful and apprehensive, wondering if they have been told the truth, knowing that many particles of the toxic chemicals have settled on their roof tops, their gardens and surroundings. Love Canal, Three Mile Island, Chernobyl, are examples of what is meant.

Manufacturing wheel-chairs etc., must surely be one of the fastest growing industries in the world, as more and more young children, young adults and older people are depending upon them to function with their incurable diseases. Moses led the children of Israel through the wilderness for forty years; no one was sick, their feet did not swell. They ate the Manna which Yahweh provided for them. But later, they rebelled and demanded meat, which Yahweh gave them. Thousands became sick and died in the wilderness (Deuteronomy 8:2-4; Psalms 105:37; Numbers 11:4-34; Psalms 78:17-31).

Ever since man has turned away from nature and relied on man-made cures, there has been sickness and disease. Many years ago, Hippocrates (the Father of Medicine) admonished us not to put a foreign substance into our bodies, but to let food be our medicine. We did not heed. A few years ago Rachel Carson wrote a book entitled "Silent Spring", warning us of the dangers of using pesticides and toxic chemicals. Again, we did not heed. (Many authors have since written on this subject.) Later, she (Carson) died of cancer.

Billions of dollars have been spent and continue to be spent to enable man to explore the heavens in search of known and unknown planets. Spewing out their poisonous fumes, they only compound the problems of an already polluted world. The scriptures tell us that heaven is Yahweh's home, earth He created for man (Psalms 115:16). (Could this be reason for so many disasters in the skies?) Yahweh will not be mocked. We are to be content where we are, living a quiet life, working with our hands and minding our own business (Galatians 6:7; 1 Thessalonians 4:11). How much better it would have been if all those billions used for space exploration had been used to build low-cost housing, creating thousands of new jobs for the unemployed, and that every person would be assured of a roof over their head and a small plot of land in which to grow most of their food, instead of having to sleep on slabs of concrete in city streets, in alley ways and under bridges etc.

We continue to develop stronger and more potent chemicals, hoping to eliminate the deadly ones we have already. Our only hope is that the Messiah will not delay His return to earth too long - when He will bring order in place of the present chaos, and after destroying the wicked, will establish a universal reign of peace and love to replace the present hatred and destruction. Shalom. Gladys Barrett, Guelph

Skater being denied a solo in an unfair snub

Editor:

I am writing in regard to the Minden Figure Skating Carnival that is coming up on April 2.

News is slowly filtering out about who does what and which ones get to skate solos. This is what has prompted me to write.

The Minden Figure Skating Club has one particular skater who has been with them for 15 years and this is her last year as a skater. In the past six weeks, Minden has hosted two skating competitions in which this skater has won three gold medals and a trophy, but whoever it is who decides who skates the solos must feel this girl is not good enough for them. With the streak of 'Gold Luck' this skater has had recently combined with the years of dedication she has given this club, one would think that the club would give something back to her. All it takes is two minutes and a little music. It's just enough to say "Hey Minden, we're proud of this girl, she's done great!"

You will notice that I haven't mentioned this skater's name, but I think I will have gotten my message across to those in charge.

A. Linstead,
Minden

Anker Odum: a lot more than a cartoonist

Although he is best known in this area for his outstanding editorial cartoons, Anker Odum's art skills extend way beyond this media. A sample of the work he has done over the past 30 years is now on display at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden.

Commercial artist, illustrator, wildlife artist. All these adjectives can be placed next to the name of Anker Odum, but in Minden and Haliburton County he is best known as the creator of the editorial cartoons that appear each Monday in The Times.

One of the first places people turn when they get their newspaper every week is to page four to see who and what is the subject of Odum's wit. For the past year and a half, he has regularly brightened the editorial page with his drawings, which often resemble some of our local council members.

Although cartooning is one of his two favourite forms of art, Odum has worked in just about every medium imaginable. From watercolors to film Odum has tried it all, and a sampling of this will be on display at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery for the next few weeks.

Born in Denmark, Odum received his early art training at a technical school near his home town of Aarhus. He followed up on that training by attending the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Copenhagen, after which he discovered that living on an artist's income isn't all champagne and caviar. "I started out freelancing," he says, "which largely means starving."

After serving for two years in the Army, Odum found a job doing artwork for the army's school Against Biological and Chemical and Atomic Warfare. His main task was in creating posters and other promotional material for the so-called "ABC school" for young officers.

After four years of art work for the army, he decided to look for "wider horizons." Along with his wife, Inge, Odum moved to Canada in 1957.

Describing Denmark's landscape as "one big farm field and garden," he says he and his wife decided to move somewhere with a bit more wilderness. Although it wasn't this main motivation, he admits that the allure of Canadian landscapes and wildlife was in the back of his mind.

"I always did painting of farm animals," he said. "I thought I'd like to do something a wilder than that."

Almost as soon as they had arrived in Toronto, Odum landed a job with a commercial art firm. Later he worked in the educational art department at McLean Hunter, designing covers and magazine layouts. And later he settled into a job with an advertising agency for three years.

Throughout this time, he continued to sketch and paint birds, insects and other wildlife. And in 1966, when the ad agency he was working for folded, he was a good candidate for a job in the art department of the Royal Ontario Museum.

"When the ad agency folded, I went to some art studios with a handful of insect drawings and bird paintings," he said. "They suggested the ROM uses artists, so I went there and got a job right away in the insect department."

His job here was to do illustrations for the museum's various publications and for gallery displays. While he enjoyed working at the museum, working with scientists required more attention to detail than what he had been used to. For example, he says he was asked to do an illustration of a fish to accompany an

Local photography is also featured in show

In addition to the art of Anker Odum, the show at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery will feature photographs from two area residents.

Russ Duhaime, the editor of The Times, Minden, has had an interest in photography for years. His work as a journalist has helped feed that interest, but he also spends a great deal of his spare time with camera in hand. His particular interest in nature photography is reflected in the black and white scenes on display. Among the photos is his award winning shot of Canada geese entitled, Breaking the Mist. Duhaime was recently awarded first prize in a province-wide competition among weekly newspapers, for photographs depicting the province's natural resources.

The show at the gallery also includes eight colour photographs by Stephen Berry. An accomplished colour photographer, the Minden native has been working with the camera for most of his life. He also has an interest in nature photography, and all but one of his photographs were taken in the Highlands. The single exception is a shot of the Grand Canyon in Arizona, taken while on a recent hiking tour.

The work of both photographers represents a sincere dedication to the craft of photography. In addition to capturing the scenes on film, both Duhaime and Berry develop their own film and print their own shots, ensuring the final photograph reflects the image they wish to convey.

This show, sponsored by The Times, Minden, in co-operation with the Agnes Jamieson Gallery continues until March 30.

Minden wins Interclub competition

Sunday February 25, the Minden Figure Skating Club hosted the eighteenth annual Kawartha Highlands Interclub Competition. Skaters competing were from Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay, Bancroft, Haliburton and Minden.

Each club is allotted points for how each skater performed. The club with the most points at the end of the competition is awarded the Kawartha Highlands Interclub Trophy. This year, Minden was the winner by quite a large margin.

Here are the results of the Minden skaters who took part.

In the Canskate A Ladies event:

In the dance events, Danielle Berube and Jody Reid placed third and Veronica Anderson and Kim Langille placed fourth in the pre-preliminary category.

In the Preliminary Dance, Lisa Ranson and Meagan Obee were third, while Kristi Barkwell and Marita Schrader placed seventh.

Cori Barkwell and Janene Garbutt were first in the Junior Bronze Dance event.

In the preliminary Interpretive Lisa Ranson was fourth, Jody Reid fifth and Meagan Obee was sixth.

In the Bronze Interpretive Tammy Pritchard was first, Jana Obee second and Cori Barkwell was fourth.

We are very proud of all of our skaters and the coaches Jane Symons, David Hollows and Diane Garbutt.

Painstaking accuracy demanded of ROM work article being written by one of the scientists at the gallery. Not only did the illustration have to be to scale, but every scale on the fish had to be in place and accounted for.

Because of the nature of his work at the gallery, mainly drawing insects, Odum earned a reputation for the small size of his art work. "They used to make fun of the fact that I always worked small," he says. However, had the chance to change that when he was involved in the creation of the museum's bat cave.

After spending three weeks doing field sketches and photographs of a bat cave in Jamaica, Odum returned to the ROM to help recreate what he had witnessed. The end result is a walk-through bat cave that stands 14 feet high and 20 feet wide. The creation of the bat cave was a group project, which was recently featured on CBC's The Nature of Things.

In 1987, Odum retired from the museum and bought a home in Minden. He says he fell in love with this area back in 1959 after he and his wife bought their first car and took a drive up this way. "We always thought it looked so nice with all the lakes and birds and animals," he said.

Although he is retired, he still doing work on commission for the ROM. He also keeps busy working up timely and humorous editorial cartoons each week for The Times, which he admits he does mainly for the enjoyment of it.

Odum's display at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery opens today. He will also be doing a presentation for students from Archie Stouffer Elementary School later in the month.

Townhouse complex is being planned for town

Minden council has approved, in principle, a plan to build a 13-unit townhouse complex in the village.

Council gave their support to Mark Ruttle, who wants to build the townhouses on Parkside Street between the Sunrise Apartments and the new Staunworth building.

Ruttle told the councillors that units will be priced at about $120,000 each and he hopes to have them ready for occupancy in about six months time. He said the units will appeal to people who like close contact with their neighbours. For people who spend time in Florida each winter, Ruttle said the townhouses will have the benefit of neighbours to keep and eye on the empty premises.

Armed with council's initial approval the plan will be reviewed by Minden's planning advisory committee at Wednesday's meeting. Once the townhouses receive PAC's approval, the plan will go back to council for final approval. Ruttle says he hopes to begin construction in two months.

Municipal building inspector, Brad Bradamore said this is the first townhouse project in the area and there will be a few hurdles to clear, but the project received the support of the councillors who commented on the ideal location of the site.

Four skaters from the Minden Figure Skating Club travelled to North Bay recently to compete in the Let's Make A Date To Skate competition. Marita Schrader and Kristi Barkwell competed in the Preliminary Ladies' and Marit place third in her flight while Kristi was sixth in her flight. Only the top two skater went on to the finals. Cori Barkwell placed fourth in her flight, barely missing out on an opportunity to advance to the finals. The top three skaters in this flight advanced.

Lions take leading role in U.N. activities

This is the 11th Lions Day at the UN. Our International President and the winner of the Lions International Poster For Peace Contest will attend the UN Assembly.

The poster drawn by Trevor Marsh of Norland Public School was selected for the final judging. Our club wish him well.

Auston P. Jennings our International President wrote the following information informing us as to our involvement at the UN.

Lions took a leading role in activities during the UN Charter Conference marking the founding of the United Nations. In fact, Melvin Jones, Past International President D.A. Skeen and Past International President Fred Smith played important roles in formulating the non-governmental sections of the UN Charter in 1945.

Since 1947, Lions Clubs International has held consultative status to the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations. ESOSOC is the body of the United Nations that is concerned primarily with advancing the welfare of all human beings. The first object of our Association, "To Create and Foster a Spirit of Understanding Among the Peoples of the World," is in fact very similar to the second and third stated purposes of the United Nations: "To Develop Friendly Relations Among Nations" and "To Achieve International Cooperation in Solving International Problems of an Economic, Social, Cultural or Humanitarian Character."

Through the years of our relationship with the UN, Clubs in various countries have worked with specialized agencies such as the Food and Agriculture Organization, UN Children's Fund (NICEF), UN High Commissioner for Refugees, UN Development Program, World Health Organization, UN Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, and the UN Fund for Drug Abuse Control. Such mutual cooperation has helped to eliminate smallpox worldwide, has resulted in the improvement of conditions for over 960 million children, and has helped to curtail illegal drug production by 50 per cent in countries such as Burma, Thailand, Laos, and Pakistan through programs of crop substitution.

From 1978 - 1985, the International Association of Lions Clubs was privileged to have a "Lions Day at the United Nations" in New York, U.S.A. During this informational session, representatives from UN humanitarian agencies, ambassadors from countries in which Lionism exists, for your service

by Alan Thompson

and Lions, Leos, and Lionesses attending had an opportunity to listen to and exchange views on matters of mutual concern. The official Lion Liaisons to the UN were aided in formulating this event by UNA-USA.

In 1985, the Vienna Cosmopolitan Lions Club of District 114-0, Austria, established a similar event on an annual basis. At the event, the Director General of the UN in Vienna, the Mayor of the city, and key Lion District officials discussed ways in which our two organizations can work together for the betterment of humanity.

In March, 1985, the International Board of Directors expressed its approval of the expansion of this concept to "Lions Day With the United Nations," whereby Lions Clubs would be encouraged to hold meetings with representatives of UN humanitarian agencies on the same day as the International president of our Association met with the Secretary General. The event was enormously successful, with Lions Clubs around the world participating on March 10, 1986. In 1987, the event was held on March 2. In 1988, the International President promulgated the official Policy Position on Peace at this event on March 14.

Lions Clubs International is privileged to be the only international service organization for which a specific day with the United Nations has been designated Lions International President Jennings will be meeting with The Secretary General of the United Nations on March 13, 1989.

Minden Lioness Club wishes to extend heartfelt thanks to everyone who assisted and contributed to our canvass for the Heart and Stroke Foundation in February. Your kindness and generosity made this a successful venture. Also this month the Lioness helped Ingoldsby UCW with tea at Hyland Crest.

This year one of our club members Lioness Janet Readman is running for President of District A16 Lioness for 1989 - 90. Convention to be held in Lindsay in April. We also will be inducting Nancy Gallant as a new Lioness at our next meeting in March. Welcome Nancy and if anyone is interested in finding out more about our club, call President, Lioness Joyce Wright.

Three members attended a District Lioness dinner February 22 in Blackstock where the Presidents' reports from all clubs were read and this correspondent is pleased to say our Minden Lioness can be very proud of their accomplishments. Annual Shamrock Brunch in Whitby on Sunday, March 5th will be attended by several Lioness - a mystery day!

There are several upcoming projects with Lions coming along - watch for news.

January 10 meeting a pot luck dinner at Kin Barb Elder's with a surprise baby shower for Kin Sharon Crowe for her new son. At the meeting we had a guest, Mrs. Gidget Lawrence who talked about her experience with her son Jason up to the time the doctors diagnosed Jason with C.F. and the excellent care for Jason and parents of C.F. children at the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children.

Kinsmen and Kinettes have been supporting C.F. for 25 years with $10 million in donations.

Kinsmen and Kinettes have also set up a program for physiotherapy to help and assist Gidget and Lawrence Loughheed.

February 13 meeting was a potluck dinner at Kin Doris Stewart. Next meeting March 14 will also be a pot luck dinner held at Kin Ruth Travers'. All must wear green and must be prepared to tell two jokes.

Kinettes may now recruit women from the ages of 21 to 45 to join the association. Women in and around Minden that want something that can be very rewarding in Community Service work and an awful lot of fellowship within the Kinettes Club, please phone Kin Norma Amyotte at 286-2632. Being a Kinettes is not all work but we have many social functions as well. Please give us a call.

Group home gets $200,000

John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton has announced over $200,000 to the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded to expand residential support programs for individuals with developmental handicaps in Haliburton. Eakins made the announcement on behalf of John Sweeny, Minister of Community and Social Services.

Eakins said $75,000 of the assistance will be used to renovate an existing group home to make it more accessible for persons with developmental and physical disabilities. The remaining portion will be provided annually to assist with the costs of operating a residential support program for individuals who will be returning home to Haliburton from other areas of the province.

"We are pleased to be able to provide assistance to this hard-working association, helping to improve and upgrade its programs," said Eakins. "One of the priorities of the ministry is to offer needed support and assistance to help people with developmental handicaps achieve their individual level of independence in the community."

The expansion of the residential support program will allow individuals currently residing at the group home to move into their own residence with supervision and support provided by the association.

The funding for services and supports for people with developmental handicaps is one of the many priorities contained in the ministry's Multi-Year Plan for community living. The intention of the plan is to ensure that appropriate services and supports are in place at the local community level to provide opportunities for independent living for people with developmental handicaps.

Training for councillors

by John Eakins

This week I would like to discuss the Education and Training Incentives Grant Program for Municipalities and the William G. Davis Award. As Minister of Municipal Affairs, I recently announced details of the ministry's new Training Incentive Grants Program for municipalities. The program is designed to encourage smaller municipalities to involve councillors and municipal employees in programs of continuing education and training. Education and training enable both politicians and staff to manage well in these times of rapid change.

The Training Incentive Grant Program pays subsidies to municipalities with populations of 10,000 or less and to counties to help them provide education and training opportunities for councillors and staff. Subsidies cover half of eligible education and training expenses up to a maximum of $750.00 a year for the participating municipality. Courses related to the administration and management of a municipality and specified in the municipality's policy are eligible for assistance.

The new program is part of my ministry's Municipal Education and Training Program, which was established to bring better focus and co-ordination to education and training opportunities for those working in, or interested in working in, municipal Government in Ontario. For more information contact:

Municipal Education and Training Secretariat, Ministry of Municipal Affairs, 11th Floor, 777 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario, M5G 2E5, (416) 585-7253.

In honour of the Honourable William G. Davis on his retirement as Premier of Ontario, employees of the Ontario Government and its Crown agencies provide donations toward a student award program.

The William G. Davis Award will be awarded to two successful applicants, one male and one female, who best combine academic achievement and extracurricular activities. The two awards of $1,000 each are presented annually in June.

The applicants must be graduating in the 1988-89 academic year from the Ontario secondary school system and must be planning to attend a recognized Ontario postsecondary institution in 1989-90. The applicant must also be the child or stepchild of an Ontario Crown Employee. An applicant form can be obtained by phoning toll free: 1-800-465-3013. The deadline for submitting the application is March 27, 1989.

Best of members' show

by Shirley Hodgson

Can you believe that a year has passed since the Guild Members have participated in the Special Members Show? This year it is called - "Celebration '89" - "Best of Members' Show."

I know you always try to do your very best and certainly hope that as many members as possible will be taking part this year. I understand that a lot of our new members have managed to finish some new and interesting works of art. If you wish to attend the opening night we would like you to "Phone A Friend" and bring them to the Rails' End Gallery on Saturday, March 11 at 7:30 p.m.

The Jurors of this show will be artist John Leonard and well known fibre artist Ankaret Dean. The presentations to the winners will take place on Saturday night under the capable supervision of our President Ginnie Muenzel.

There was a very good response for the job for part time Secretary for the Guild. This week the Secretary was chosen. Her name is Karen Pockett and she will begin the week of March 15. Please take the time to make her feel welcome.

The Concert Committee has sold one third of the keys for the new piano. If you are interested - each key will cost $70. You may pay this at the Gallery or at Betty Hodgson's office in the Stedman Building.

Please try to get behind this project.

On April 15 the Ontario Handweavers and Spinners, Central Region Seminar is to be held at PineStone Inn. Ankaret Dean will be the guest speaker. All Weavers and Spinners please take note ... the Committee and Members have put a lot of time and effort into making this a success.

This group and other Guild Members are selling tickets for one handwoven King Size Blanket, with coordinating cushions. All proceeds will be going toward the purchase of Gallery Exhibition Props. Price of each ticket is $2. Draw date - Saturday, April 15, 1989 at 2 p.m. at PineStone Inn.

Attention all fibre artists Really Good Show. The 23rd Annual Ontario Rug Hookers Show will be held April 28, 29 and 30. On Sunday, April 30 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. this Show will be open to the public. The admission is $3 and advanced tickets will be sold. There are prizes for advance tickets. Please contact Isobell Thomas 457-1996 or Marg Fedorchuk at 457-2370. This is a golden opportunity to see a wonderful Show as it is so close. It will be held at the Nottawasaga Inn, which is three miles east of Alliston on Highway 89. The theme of this year's show is "Water Fowl".

There will be flyers on this at the Gallery.

PUBLIC NOTICE

IN THE MATTER OF the Municipal Act and in the matter of a proposed by-law of the Corporation of the Township of Snowdon to stop up, close and convey that portion of the 66 foot original shore road allowance along the shore of South Lake in front of Part of Lot 2, Concession 13.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, pursuant to Chapter 302, Sec. 298 of the Municipal Act R.S.O. 1980, as amended, that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Snowdon proposes to consider and if deemed advisable to pass at its regular meeting to be held at the Gelert Community Hall, Gelert, Ontario, on Monday April 10, 1989 at 7:45 p.m., a by-law to Stop Up, Close and Convey those parcels of land more particularly described as follows:

That part of the 66 foot Original Road Shore Allowance along the shore of South Lake, in front of Part of Lot 2, Concession 13 designated as Part 1 of Preliminary Reference Plan 19R-1524 in the Township of Snowdon, County of Haliburton on a plan of survey prepared by Robert Woodcock, O.L.S., dated July 13, 1988.

WHICH SAID PLAN OF SURVEY may be examined at the Municipal Office of the Township of Snowdon in Gelert, Ontario.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that before passing the said by-law at its meeting to be held at the time and place above mentioned, the Council of the Township of Snowdon shall then and there hear in person, or by his counsel, solicitor or agent, any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially affected by the said by-law and who applies to be heard.

Dated at the Township of Snowdon this 28th day of February, 1989.

Ernest A. Hills,
Clerk-Treasurer
Township of Snowdon

Residents enjoy activities

senior league

by Winnifred Barnum

Intended for last week

Well folks, since we were under quarantine there has not been much activity or news here at Hyland Crest. Those who felt able attended Fun & Fitness and Arts & Crafts.

Today, Thursday, we had a very good turnout for a few games of bingo in the auditorium, since the regular callers were not allowed in for our Thursday night bingo.

We are all saddened and our sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Edna Cowan who passed away February 16, 1989 at Hyland Crest.

Lilly Hogg had a fall Friday morning and is confined to her bed here.

Grace Coburn is about in a wheel chair and is now able to take a few steps.

Everyone will surely be glad when this quarantine is lifted.

Tuesday morning, Linda and Doris took the chapel service as the minister wasn't allowed in. Everyone who attended said it was a beautiful service.

Stella Stinson celebrated her 88th birthday at Hyland Crest, February 16, 1989.

Since I wrote the above about Grace Coburn, she has since discontinued the use of the wheel chair. We are glad she has improved so much.

Tuesday night we had Kirk Bull, Don Alton and Doris to entertain us with music which was really appreciated since we have had so few lately. We, the residents of Hyland Crest, are very proud of Linda English who has completed her course in Activation Techniques in Gerontology.

Monday the quarantine was removed so we feel as though we are out of prison.

Thursday the Eagle Lake Women's Club brought our afternoon tea and a birthday cake in honour of our February people who had birthdays in the month. Ruby Lewis and Marjorie Shuyler on February 11, Stella Stinson on February 16. The tea was enjoyed by everyone.

The Kinsmen came in the evening to call bingo for us. Tuesday night Bill Payne, Doris Robertson and Don Alton came to entertain us with some lively music, which was appreciated by the residents. There was chapel service Sunday night with Mr. Burgess conducting the service.

Rev. Doug Kent took the service in the chapel Tuesday morning. Our latest resident Mary Burgess was admitted last week.

Wednesday Silverts came from Toronto with all kinds of ladies and men's clothing for sale. This is a great help to the residents who can not get out to do shopping. Silverts help them by choosing what they think would be suitable and help try them on those who are unable to do so. We also get a discount.

Pearl Lyle and her daughter in law Doris Lyle and her daughter from Sundridge to see her on the weekend.

I have been sick for a week and I had my son Terry Barnum in to visit me on Friday and my sister May and her husband Roy Cameron on Sunday.

Mable Buttery had her brother W. Ackerblade to see her Wednesday.

The bingo Saturday afternoon was cancelled because Tanya Allaire who conducts it was away attending a wedding.

We have started another week of senior activity with the ladies from Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church in Minden bringing our tea. A couple of the ladies played guitars and sang for us while we were having our tea. Both the tea and music was appreciated by everyone very much.

The tea was followed by residents council which was held in the main lounge because so many were attending. Our executive has changed

'A book-a-day' suggestions

While the weather may be uncertain, there is one constant on the go: there is always something new for you at your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library. For those that might like to read a "book a day", we offer the following suggestions for your consideration:

Monday - For those that may have a political bent, we present The Complete Yes Minister by Jonathon Lynn, the diaries of the Rt. Honourable James Hacker, M.P. of BBC fame. Margaret Thatcher enjoys reading about him and his constant problems with the civil service. Sometimes it is hard to tell where the humour stops and the reality begins.

Tuesday - Bill Neil presents Voice of the Pioneer. Is there anyone who hasn't heard Fresh Air on Sunday morning and become totally absorbed in the ever-fascinating real people that McNeil meets? Some are famous and many are not but they are all a part of this country and its past. By extension, they are all a part of us.

Wednesday - Now, the time after Christmas is a good occasion to start a new hobby or learn something new about something old or just expand your mind. The Complete Shortwave Listener's Handbook is just the thing. Answering your old questions and bringing you into the world of new technology, all you need is a chunk of wire and a shortwave radio. Eavesdrop on the world and have a real good time.

Thursday - Her name was Nancy Eaton. She was beautiful, vivacious, successful and yes, one of the Eaton Family. In 1985, she was brutally murdered by one of her own (as it were), a close friend who liked to play with knives amongst his other activities and may be back out on the streets real soon. Why did he do it? Some answers may be found in A Question of Guilt.

Friday - Family Exploration and Surveying of Muskoka District by Robert J. Boyer impacts upon the County of Haliburton and if you are not familiar with this title, Friday evening may be just the time to do so.

Saturday - Personally, we do not subscribe to doing any really "heavy" work on a Saturday. So we like to choose our reading materials accordingly. Patricia Sprinkle has given us Murder at Markham which sees Sheila Travis become involved in a murder mystery at the famed Markham Institute in Chicago. The victim is young and pretty; the rest of the cast have their own reasons for not being disappointed at her demise. As the bodies mount up, so does the drama. A must for Saturday.

Sunday - we propose something that you may wish that you had started at the beginning of the week. The 90 Second Therapist by Timothy Bentley that tells you how to conquer stress; explains how career people work better and last longer by putting their family life first; and, how you can avoid power struggles with your children. Much more.

So passes the week. All of these titles are available at or through your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library.

Grant received

An eastern Ontario area resort will receive a $50,000 Destinations East Capital Assistance loan to upgrade its facilities and attract more tourists to the area.

The funding was announced recently by Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins on behalf of Ontario Minister of Tourism and Recreation Hugh P. O'Neil.

Pine Grove Point Resort, near Harcourt, will construct two winterized cottages, a new washroom, laundry facilities and storage area. One cottage will be designed for physically challenged persons. The resort now comprises seven cottages, 75 campsites, a recreation hall and store.

"The Haliburton Highlands region is one of Ontario's more popular destinations," Mr. O'Neil said. "The Pine Grove Point Resort expansion will help visitors have a more enjoyable stay while in the area."

Conservationists can play active role

by Marion Strebeg
Federation of Ontario
Naturalists

If you read this column you are interested in preserving wildlife habitat in your area. Chances are that you've already had some nasty shocks when favourite places have disappeared as a result of development activity of one kind or another. As a conservation organization dedicated to preserving wildlife habitat, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists is used to the question, "But what can an individual do to halt this destruction?"

The situation is certainly not hopeless. The more you know about your rights as a citizen to have input into planning processes which govern land use, the more effective you can be in taking proactive (preventive) measures. For instance, every municipality, including yours, either already has or is developing an Official Plan (O.P.). This Plan is the blueprint for land use in your area, indicating where things like roads, sewers, schools etc. will go. All by-laws, including zoning by-laws, must conform to the Official Plan.

At the same time natural areas are marked, often vaguely, hazard land, or sometimes, environmentally sensitive. Whatever the designation, it offers no protection unless there are specific provisions in the plan - to protect these areas from development.

If you have concerns about development in your area, go to the municipal clerk and get a copy of the plan. Ask to be put on the list so that you will be notified of any intended amendments to the plan. If you are on the mailing list you will also be notified when the Official Plan

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

International Day of Prayer celebrated at Hyland Crest with tea following service

again because of sickness. We now have Winnifred Barnum president, Mary Oliver secretary and May Horsley treasurer.

At four o'clock Doris continued the reading of a very interesting book. The Kinsmen member called bingo for us in the evening. Friday the World's Day of Prayer was held in the auditorium. It was a beautiful program. The speaker was Deacon Bob Ferguson from Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church in Minden. Following the service we had tea.

Saturday afternoon Tanya Allaire set up and called several games of bingo for us in the main lounge. The ones who got a bingo received a prize. Tanya conducted it very well.

Annie Jones had her family to visit Sunday. May Horsley had her daughter and husband (Lee and Murray), Mrs. Carefott had her daughter with her Sunday. I had my neiece Emily LaRue and her daughter Danielle to see me Sunday afternoon. Mr. Burgess was unable to take the service in the chapel Sunday night because his wife, Mary Burgess is in the Lindsay hospital with a broken hip so we had Mr. Gordon Sharpless take the service. The residents thanked him very much and are very sorry about Mary Burgess.

Monday night there were no movies, which disappointed the residents very much. With the help of volunteer ladies there was euchre and crokinole in the auditorium Tuesday and we had music in the evening with Everett Fearrey and his daughter.

We appreciate that very much.

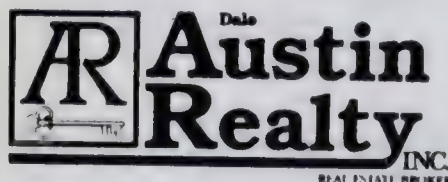

Mrs. Stinson has returned from a week's visit with her daughter in Toronto. Alfred Richardson had a birthday on March 2. Gladys Kirkpatrick had her son Harold from Bobaygeon to see her. We are sorry to report Ina McGuire is a patient in the Peterborough hospital.

May Horsley had her brother Don and his wife in to see her Wednesday. I had my great niece Chantal Thurston for a visit this afternoon.

Earl Cooper was here Wednesday evening with Kathy and other gentlemen who entertained us with some real good music. They sang and played a variety of music including some Irish songs since it was so near St. Patrick's Day.

Thank you very much.

Protectionists can help implement good policies comes up for review. Once you identify the weaknesses, from the protectionist's viewpoint, of the O.P. you can begin lobbying for changes.

The other major land use planner in your area is the district office of the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources (OMNR). The OMNR is responsible for all Crown land as well as for resources such as provincial parks, forestry and wildlife. One of the most important jobs of the district office is to draw up a Timber Management Plan for the area. Since the passage of the Environmental Assessment Act in 1975, the OMNR is required to provide the opportunity for public consultation in developing Timber Management Plans.

Timber Management Plans (TMP) are prepared for a 20 year period with provision for renewal every 5 years. Currently the OMNR's handling of timber management on Crown lands is being reviewed in Thunder Bay before the Environmental Assessment Board, and until this process is completed the OMNR's timber management planning has an exemption under the Environmental Assessment Act. However, public consultation must still take place.

Very likely Timber Management Plans are being prepared in your district, but the only way you are likely to find out is if you see the notice the OMNR is required to publish in the local paper. Technically this is all the public notice they need to give. However, if you wish to be involved you should visit your district office and request to be put on the mailing list so that you are notified of proposed TMPs.

Each step of the process has provision for public consultation. The first stage will likely be notification of invitation to participate in plan. Then there will be notification of a public information meeting where the OMNR will set out a series of maps outlining proposed areas of operation and alternatives.

At this open house there are two things that you should be looking at. The first is where the timber access roads will go. Roads open an area to all sort of potential development. Are the proposed roads a threat to any sensitive area? Will these roads be closed after timber operations are completed?

Secondly, TMPs are supposed to take into account other resource values of the forest. The provision for doing this is to mark Areas of Concern (AOC). These may be canoe routes, deer yards, endangered species habitat, nesting areas like heron rookeries, special geological features, or areas with special vegetation features.

Here is an opportunity for you as naturalist to get involved in making sure areas you believe are important are included as AOC's. Ask what management techniques the OMNR intends to use to protect these areas. Finally when the plan has been approved, and you discover that your concerns have not been addressed in the plan, you may apply for what is termed a "bump-up". This means that you may write to the Minister of the Environment explaining that your concerns have not been dealt with and request that the plan be subject to a full Environmental Assessment.

All this may sound tedious and time-consuming and it can be. But at the same time it can be immensely satisfying to find out how the system works and to be part of the process. You may even be able to see ways in which your input has made the final plan more environmentally sensitive. Besides it's good to lose that feeling of helplessness and realize that it's possible for one concerned individual to make a difference.

BIRTHS

MINTZ: Merv and Linda are happy to announce the impatient arrival of their second son, a brother for Jeffrey, KEVIN THOMAS.

Born February 28, 1989, weighing 8 lbs., 14 oz., at Huntsville Memorial Hospital. Thank you to Dr. Ogden, Dr. Mathies and Nurse Babb and a special thank you to Linda Robitaille and Donna Dillon for the speedy taxi service.

THOMPSON: Doug and Kim of Minden are pleased to announce the arrival of a 7.3 lb. sister for Elizabeth in Lindsay, March 10 at 6:37 a.m. Granddaughter for Archie and Margret Thompson of Bob Lake/Toronto, Gary and Marion Anderson of Ajax.

CARD OF THANKS

Thank you, everyone, for your thoughtfulness during my recent hospital stay. Your visits, calls, cards and gifts were sincerely appreciated and will never be forgotten.

Aulis Orpana

We would like to thank all those who helped in the rescue attempt of our mother on December 21, 1988. Thank you.

The Way Family & Friends

Many and sincere thanks to everyone for all the kindness and consideration shown me and my family following my recent operation. Your kindness will remain a good memory for a long time.

"SPECIAL"
MAN ABOUT TOWN
ON MARCH 19
to

from his Minden fan club.

IN MEMORIAM

WARBURTON: In loving memory of a dear father, Joe, who passed away March 14, 1988.

For a father who gave us his all
Thanks for the great memories
And may God keep and bless you
Until we meet again.

Always remembered by Paul, Islay, Jeremy and Jason.

WARBURTON: In memory of my husband Joe who passed away March 14, 1988.

God saw that you were getting weary
And the hills were too hard to climb
So he gently called you home to Him
Where there is peace at all times.

So we just try to carry on Until our life is o'er
And trust we all will meet again
Upon the golden shore.

Missed, but remembered, by wife Lila and Family.

WARBURTON: In loving memory of our father and grandfather, Joe, who passed away March 14, 1988.

We miss you every day
We miss the things you used to say
And when the times together we recall
That's when we miss you most of all.

Lovingly remembered by son Ross, Joan and family.

IN MEMORIAM

WARBURTON: In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Joe, who passed away March 14, 1988.

Loving and kind in all his ways
Upright and just to the end of his days
Sincere and kind in heart and mind
What a beautiful memory he left behind.

Always remembered by Glen, Marg and family.

WARBURTON: In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away March 14, 1988.

Every day in some small way
Memories of you come our way

Though absent, you are ever near Still missed, loved and always dear.

Remembered by Gary, Lois, Karen, Kevin and Jeff.

WARBURTON: In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Joe, who passed away March 14, 1988.

The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep

Lovingly remembered by Barb, Eileen, Keith and family.

AT REST

WALKER
Darrell Allen

suddenly at Oshawa General Hospital on Saturday, March 4, 1989, in his 19th year, beloved son of Nancy and the late Gerald Walker, dear stepson of Leslie Burke, dear brother of Darcy Walker and Robert and Jon Burke, loving grandson of Lois and Chesel Nesbitt and the late Audrey and Wallace Walker. Rested at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, Minden. Funeral Service was held in the chapel on Tuesday March 7th at 2:30 p.m. Spring interment Minden Cemetery. Memorial donations to the Kingdom Hall Building Fund, Haliburton, would be appreciated.
